Congratulations to the graduating class of 1973. We will miss you because, like other students, you are the Conval program. We sincerely hope that you have put enough of yourself into your school career to feel a part of the school as a whole. That investment of time and effort will pay good dividends. Your diploma is symbolic of your achievement. Some of you achieved far more because you wanted more out of your high school experience. My single request of you as graduation approaches is that you look ahead to consider what you expect from life in relation to your own assessment of achievement while in high school. Think about it . . .

RAIDERS

There were 95 boys who made up eight teams this year in intramural football.

The Rams, Colts, Jets, Chiefs, Patriots, Packards, Raiders and Giants were the teams with the four best going into the playoffs.

After winning the 1972 Super Bowl, the Rams became the first unbeaten team ever with an 8-0-1 record. The Jets tied them during regular season play 13-13. Bill Staples was the coach for the Rams.

The Rams beat the Jets 24-20 in the Super Bowl.

KNOWLEDGE

I looked down the empty hall
and I felt a part of it.
It was dark and very quiet
but not afraid.
I could tell it was lonely wanting to reach out to passers-by wanting to make them stop to see themselves.
No one stopped, or cared to stop too busy to help too busy to think
too busy to listen.
As they passed, they stared at me
not seeing me.
I was alone, too;
a rebel with no one to rebel against.
Everything was dark, empty
but I knew it
and that was good.

- SHARON KNIGHT

It was dark.
I was scared.
It was lonely
in that corner.

I was sure that someone nice would come in and shed some light.

To laugh a lot it's fun to do.
But to watch
people die ...

A miserable death.
A painless death.
A gory death.
To watch people die ...

I sit and cry.
Is this the truth?
Imagination can run wild - but to watch people die?

- KATHI OZENICH

Can we rid ourselves of drugs and crime
by merely jailing pushers and hiring more police?
Not now or at any future time.
Those measures are easier but not as effective as trying to cope with the social ills, the conditions that kill the hope of the poor, the downtrodden,
who at last resort to mugging and dope
who, in their fight for survival
claw, and grope,
and, looking for a way out,
tug at any rope
to pull themselves up out of the abyss of poverty and despair.

Can peace be attained
by being always prepared for war? With the economy strained by the expense, never spared for bombs to drop and plans to fly?
I say, Never!
all countries must try
to completely sever,
themselves from militarism.
Is a huge military-industrial complex
an actual need?
Or has the military muscle that nations flex
been developed because of greed?
What about the world's starvation?
There are empty stomachs to feed!
When any nation
tolerates hunger it plants the seed of its own destruction.

- CHARLES BROWN

Weaving interlocking winds - locking me in rooms of misery. Crying like an aged fallen jester, whose heart used to dance to the tune of a princess's curls ...
now the pain and disappointment cuts through my eyes, like watching a newborn sparrow fall from its nest and being crushed by a brick.

Soft silent honey drops of dew
drop quietly, gaily fall to the ground, glide on leaves - leaving sweetness on the trees cleansing flowers of morning sleepiness -

An aged old man - tears running to dawn -
cried for freedom
crushed by a brick ...
when will I see you again???

THE UNKNOWN

I sense a deep knowledge
Deep inside of me -
But it is not
Part of my mind.

I feel a vast history
Deep inside of me -
But it is not
Part of my memory.

I grope for these things
Deep inside of me
But it is not
Part of my comprehension.

Pat Huston

I regret things now.
He was wrong, but
so was I.
He is immature;
I am more so.
So here I am

 deeper than I ever realized everything is okay now. I understood now. I'm glad now that you cared enough to be hurt. That hurt taught me

Scott Brown, a student from the Dublin School, presented an afternoon with Mark Twain to an overflow crowd. Not only was the Mark Twain material he presented amusing and interesting, but it was truly amazing to watch while the sharp-tongued old man transformed himself back into a high school student.

Did you ever sit and reminisce about the things to come and realize you've only yourself to blame?
For in the last analysis, nothing can be done,
For we all agree, there's nothing like a dame.
The menu of life, my friend, sports a bittersweet dessert- foolishly taunting the final judgement day.
And we can all be found in the misty corridors
of time,
On the road to where the drunken wombats play.

Ralph Waldo Shepard

ONE LAST HOPE

Hey Kid! You've just awakened to the new world.
It looks beautiful doesn't it?
(I thought so too.)
I hate to break the news,
But the beauty lies-
Only in the poet's dreams
But wait! Don't go back to sleep,
I need somebody to fulfill
my poet's dreams...
Maybe you can?

JACK BRENNAN

While the swift breeze was whipping by,
we were walking hand-in-hand, staring motionless into the future- not knowing what may be, can be, or will be...

KATHI OZENICH

The moon falls behind a cloud as the mist rises from a small pool. The loons call to one another, a tribute to the coming morning. We sit erect, watching the sun rise to greet the dark spring morning. We wait silently, as the first rays fall down to us. Friendly faces from heaven shine down on us, and I know that everything is going to be alright.

SHARON KNIGHT

I am older now, not wiser;
Life has changed for me.
I'm me now, on my own.
Do I miss the good life?
Homelife?
Or was it a dependence?
Well- what's done is done,
And no matter what is right
I have yet to face it.

NANCY DUNLAP

A TREE for Wonderworld
 And brightly so-
 Are you children of forever?
 Then dance in fanciful steps of color and song
 of color and sweeping music tunes lasting forever lasting forever
 forever...

Streams of music
 Soft music floating through eyes
 Poetry weaving patterns and patterns on the shattered windows of the world.

Suppose a miracle of confusion.
 The daybreak enchanted by a Merlin spell turning round, round, round round, round
 Making the world turn faster...

then- close your eyes
 Close your eyes, children of forever
 Count the millions of raindrops lost in the pond.

TED MANN

Childhood is ending. I am on the verge of entering the next phase of my life.
 I am filled with apprehension.
 I know that I am too big to continue living in this cocoon, that despite my efforts
 to keep it shut tight,
 it is bursting open without regard for my wish to remain isolated. I feel small and weak. My fantasies, and with them
 my imaginary security
 and my whole
 comfortable, carefree, illusion-filled
 child world, are evaporating. I am exposed to the simultaneously scorching and frigid world of reality.

CHARLES BROWN

CHRIS LEGER

The world is a hard place to live in.
We struggle to survive, only to find
we are slowly dying.

The rich are greedy, the poor are starving and so is the rest of the world.

Why should we live if this world is changing from democracy to bureaucracy?

What is wrong or right can no longer be determined. No one knows, some think, and some do.

Let's all think and do and maybe we can better this world.

KATHI OZENICH

LOVE

Love is a sacred word,
Love is the name of God,
The entire universe was created with love,
By love and in love.

Love is the beginning,
Love is the continuation,
And love is the end.

Love for love's sake is divine,
It is constructive,
It is beautiful,
It brings peace.
It brings harmony,
It brings joy,
To the lover and the loved.

But if love is based on selfishness,
egoism,
The very same love brings destruction.

Peace and harmony are based on love,
Love knows no business,
Love knows no bargain,
Love never expects anything in return,
Love knows only giving, giving, giving,
Such a love is the supreme one.

Love can express your inner feelings,
Love can conquer hate,
Love should not be ignored.

Self respect cannot be hunted.
It cannot be purchased. It is never for sale. It cannot be fabricated out of public relations.
It comes to us when we are alone
in quiet moments, in quiet places, when we suddenly realize that knowing the good,
we have done it; knowing the beautiful, we have served it;
knowing the truth, we have spoken it.

Success - Ralph Waldo Emerson

To laugh often and much;
to win the respect of intelligent people and the affection of children; to earn the appreciation of honest critics and endure
the betrayal of your false friends;
to appreciate beauty, to find the best in others; to leave the world a bit better, whether by a healthy child, a garden patch,
or a redeemed social condition.

To know even one life has breathed easier because you lived. This is to have succeeded.

No wider than the heart is wide;
Above the world is stretched the

No higher than the soul is high.
The heart can push the sea and

Farther away on either hand;
The soul can split the sky in two,

And let the face of God shine

But east and west will pinch the

That can not keep them pushed

Will cave in on him by and by."

"Most people who call themselves 'truth seekers' ... persons who scurry about chattering about Truth as though it were a tangible separable thing, like houses, or salt or bread ... do not so much desire to find Truth as to cure a mental itch ... there is no Truth but only many truths; Truth is not a colored bird to be chased among the rocks and captured by its tail, but a skeptical attitude toward life."

"...If one advances confidently in the direction of his dreams, and endeavors to live the life which he has imagined, he will meet with success unexpected in common hours. He will put some things behind, will pass an invisible boundary; new, universal, and more liberal laws will begin to establish themselves around and within him; or the old laws be expanded, and interpreted in his favor in a more liberal sense, and he will live with the license of a higher order of beings. In proportion, as he simplifies his life, the laws of the universe will appear less complex, and solitude will not be solitude, nor poverty poverty, nor weakness. If you have built castles in the air, your work need not be lost; that is where they should be. Now put the foundations under them."

- I, Kay Harris, do hereby leave Mr. Aldrich many Brahous Brahouna houna saki's for the past and in the future.
- I, Bruce Hartwell, do hereby leave Ira Anderson the $1.00 my older brother owes him and Joe St. Lawrence all my good looks.
- I, Roxanne Hatch, do hereby leave the front office all my tardy slips for the last four years in hopes that someone else can match my record.
- I, Allen Hebert, do hereby leave Steve Clark my athletic ability because he needs it.
- I, Cyndi Hemas, do hereby leave my brother the memories of him almost getting a whiffle and me almost getting a pixie.
- I, Eileen Hitt, do hereby leave under influence of ... education?
- I, Tom Hogan, do hereby leave Kim Salamy a knish so he can realize he is on the losing side.
- I, Richard Holt, do hereby leave the privilege of riding the Temple bus to anyone who is dumb enough to want to.
- I, Jay Irwin, do hereby leave my size to "Fat Fezzy."
- I, Dwight Jarest, do hereby leave my ability to walk the halls to anyone who thinks he can do better than I did.
- I, Diane Johnson, do hereby leave Mr. Downey to Mr. Crowe, to teach him how to run the offset press so that Mr. Crowe can teach his Accounting II class.
- I, Nancy Jones, do hereby leave Evan Bishop with his question of "Who is Bengy?" still unanswered. Keep guessing!!
- I, Jay Keuper, do hereby leave Cathy Roper one greasepaint moustache.
- I, Sharon Knight, do hereby leave Mr. Aldrich the tremendous Gordian knot of ConVal, knowing that he is the only one there who could unravel it.
- I, John R. Kyte, leave Con-Val to anyone who can stand it.
- I, Michael Lacroix, do hereby leave Mr. Davidson a cossack to keep his head warm, and a gallon of gas for his Harley.
- I, Dana Lawrence, do hereby leave five pounds of fresh flounder to Mr. Davidson for all the good marks he gave me.
- I, Rollie Lemire, do hereby leave my ability to argue with Mr. Levasseur to anyone who can handle it.

- I, Sue Lennon, do hereby leave Rae Ann Emery my own ability to "do too much," since she'll probably find herself in the same position.
- I, Vicki Lobacki, do hereby leave Amy Webber a telephone message in the main office.
- I, Don Lord, do hereby leave Mrs. Lawler her own cheering section.
- I, Brenda Magoon, do hereby leave my biology lab assistantship to anyone who can do a good job and treat Mr. Miller well.
- I, Ted Mann, do hereby leave my search for the bright and musical breathing purity - talking solstice and infusing peace.
- I, Frances Marion, do hereby leave my lockers to anyone who can fit more old lunches in them than I did.

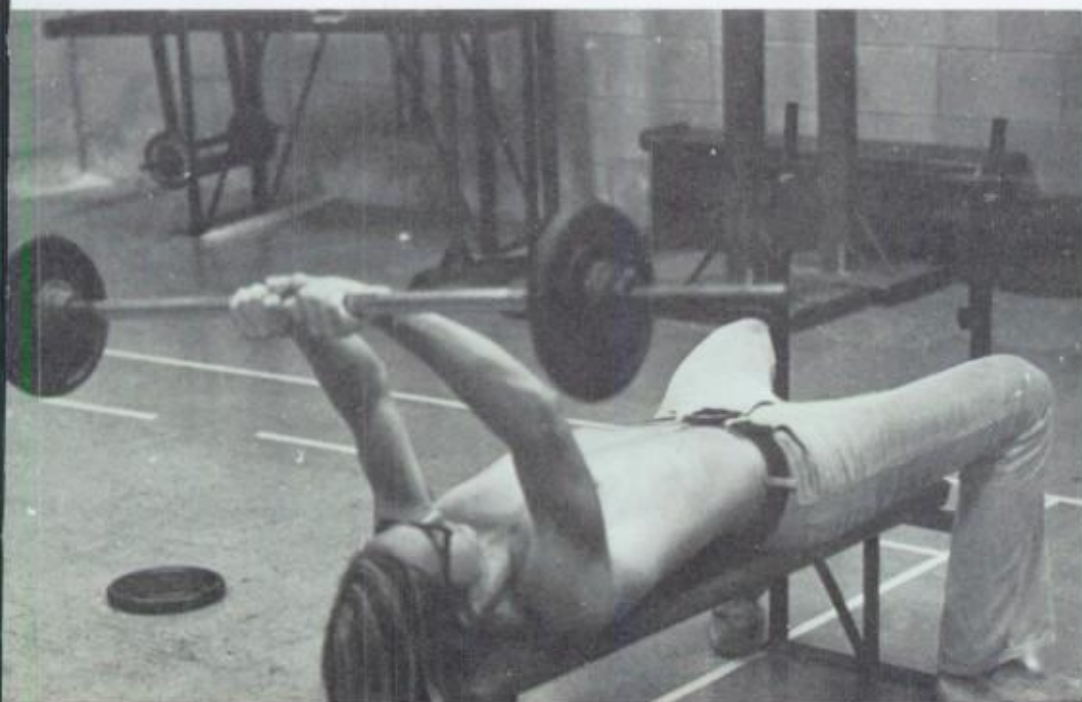

- I, Heidi Mazza, do hereby leave, with sympathy to his teachers, my place to Mr. Gump.
- I, Carol McAneney, do hereby leave all my thanks and appreciation to Mrs. Davison.
- I, Jim McPhetres, do hereby leave Mr. Gio, a pair of tree spikes so that he may find his putters.
- I, James Moss, do hereby leave to Mr. Davidson a finely tailored preacher's suitcoat.
- I, David Murdough, do hereby leave Mr. McQuillan with a lot of good speaked words.
- I, Peter Naylor, do hereby leave Mr. Page 99 1/2 Polish jokes in hopes he'll learn to take them like a man.
- I, Carl Newton, do hereby leave the Antrim boys one more ride to Antrim.
- I, Ellie Nolan, do hereby leave all my thanks to Mrs. Breton.
- I, Mike Norton, do hereby leave to Kevin Smith, Mickey Mantle's bat to swing on Independence Day at 2:00 when it's raining.

- I, John Nyland, do hereby leave.
- I, Duane Ordway, do hereby leave all my printing talent to Mr. Downey.
- I, Kathy O'Rourke, do hereby leave Mr. Sanders a taller director's stool so that he can be seen over our music stands.
- I, Kathi Ozenich, do hereby leave little Mr. Butler with a French version of "The Sensuous Woman."
- I, Laurel Peterson, do hereby leave my laugh to anyone in need, and all my joke books to Mr. Trottier for all his students ... to suffer through.
- I, Kevin Pettee, do hereby leave some pigmeat to Paul, some third trumpets to George, some powda to Mike and Jim, an answer book to Kevin, my 7 gold metals to Jeddy and a Cubby-shot to the Greenfield Arena.
- I, Tamba Phipps, do hereby leave a consciousness to every female that she may go out into the world with greater dignity and purpose to take her place as a leader among humans, creating a universe of peace.
- I, Mary Pickford, do hereby leave Nancy Wheeler all the clams she can eat and a package of winter green certs.

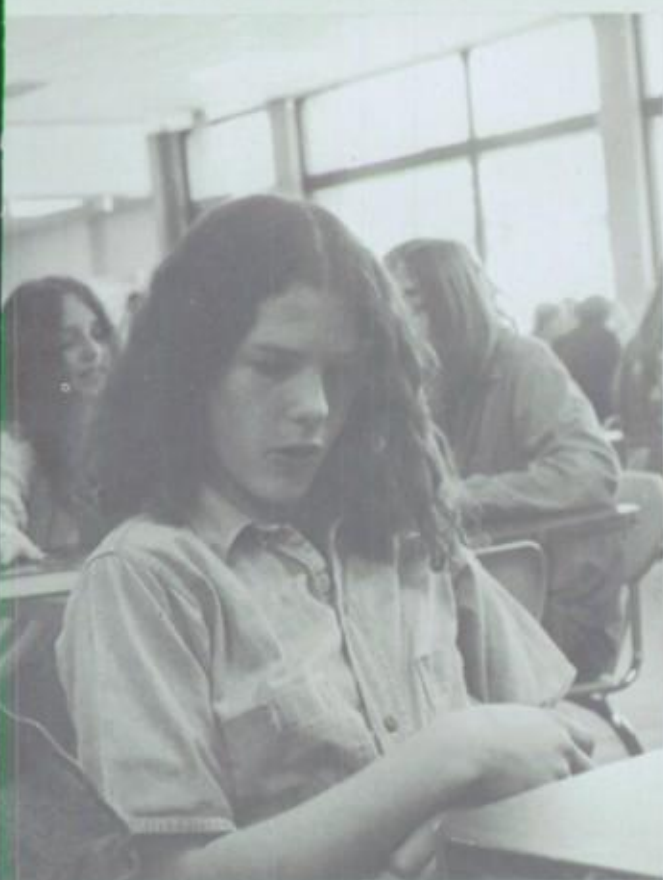

- I, Kim Place, do hereby leave with the mystery of the stolen puppy still unsolved.
- I, Sharon Proctor, do hereby leave my A.B. blood to Mr. Dunham.
- I, Kendra Reynolds, do hereby leave to Jett Lambert my little red opel so that she can chase "Big Reg" around.
- I, Don Sampson, do hereby leave, high as a moon.
- I, Libby Sargent, do hereby leave my lifelong nickname, "Doo-doo" to anyone who feels that they would like it more than I do.
- I, Wynner T. Scott, do hereby leave to Mr. Smith and Mr. Davidson an articulate timepiece composed of the purest human elements to be kept in one's favorite pocket.
- I, Debbie Shea, do hereby leave one English translations of "Columbu" to Mr. Butler. Now maybe he'll be able to read and understand the story as well as French III '72.
- I, Lucia Sirois, do hereby leave my flirting ways to the girls working in the Pizza Shop.
- I, Mike Shea, do hereby leave Mr. Eves one box of non-polarized capacitors, just in case.
- I, Brad Shepard, do hereby leave to the C.V. English Department my deepest sympathies and condolences.

- I, Chip Smith, do hereby leave to my brother Tom all my old college catalogs in the hopes that he will someday use them.
- I, Ron Stickney, do hereby leave my ingenious plumbing skills to Steve Korpi.
- I, John Strauss, do hereby leave my study habits to the Society for the Prevention of Inhuman Acts.
- I, Dennis Sutcliffe, do hereby leave one bottle of corn husker's lotion and a greasy comb to Oscar Abbott so he can get the kinks out of his hair.
- I, Peggy Sysyn, do hereby leave.
- I, Mark Thomas, do hereby leave one "Conrad Birdie" fan pin to any girl who feels she can wear it without getting too carried away.
- I, Sherrill Trussell, do hereby leave Donald Blanchette the future at Con-Val. (Hang in there, Sweetheart; you'll make it someday.)
- I, Brian Turini, do hereby leave Pam Elliott something to think with.
- I, Sandi Turner, do hereby leave a skate board to Mrs. Langille; she really needs one.
- I, Terry Valeriani, do hereby leave Con-Val in the hopes that Mrs. Breton won't have anymore pests like J. O. D. and me.
- I, Anne Vaillancourt, do hereby leave to Linda Zabriskie the halls to roam and classes to skip.
- I, Toby Vaughan, do hereby leave all of my charming anecdotes of the Shawmut Inn and Kennebunkport, Maine to Mrs. Lawler so she can entertain her future American Transcendentalists for years to come.
- I, Mike-None-Walker, do hereby leave the story of "NONE," never to be known with the exceptions of "None" and "Nub."
- I, Cheryl Warriner, do hereby leave Robin Hunter a free lesson in weaseling coffee with Vern C.
- I, Brenda Wenblad, do hereby leave Robin Hunter my crusty pants to wear when she needs a pair.
- I, Bruce Wenigmann, do hereby leave White Whale a good head and some gland crackers.
- I, Martha Wiederhold, do hereby leave my sister Libby my tactfulness so that she won't lose the few friends she has. I also leave her two extra fingers to make "Chinese Libby" whenever she wants to because Kevin neglected to. I leave Johnny "Gunky" Eneguess my ability to sing so he can continue to entertain the loons.
- I, Daniel L. Williams, do hereby leave to Mrs. Lawler a little bit of "Civil Obedience."
- I, Gary Young, do hereby leave Mr. Eves a live capacitor in hopes that he gets a big charge out of it.
- I, Mike Zack, do hereby leave the pink bomb to anyone who will haul it away.

IN MEMORIAM

EDDIE HEMAS

I'll remember you; I'll remember you well.
I'll never forget you, the things you used to do:
Simple things, fun things, strange things,
Everything.
I can sometimes hear you laugh. It was always such a familiar thing;
I can sometimes see your smile. It happened so often.
Sometimes I can see your figure walking down
the hall,
But, then, I can't really see you at all.
But still I'll remember you; I'll remember you well.

--Barbara Gilbert

To Scott,
a person that I wish I had known better. I love your music and your ways. Please don't change and think of me in your sleep. Love Always.

You're about to take a giant step forward into your future. We think we can make it the bright one you want it to be at New England Telephone. With a job that's every bit as big as your ambition. You see, we need people. With all kinds of talents. And especially, people who really want to get going with their future. And want to be rewarded with automatic raises. If you want a job and a future that's tailored to your talent... along with unusually generous fringe benefits, stop in and see your guidance counselor. Ask when and where you can apply for an interview with the people who want to make your future as happy as you want it to be.

Look to this day!

For it is life, the very life of life. In its brief course lie all the varieties and realities of your existence:

The bliss of growth

The glory of action

The splendor of beauty;

For yesterday is but a dream, For tomorrow is only a vision; But today, well lived, makes every Yesterday a dream of happiness and every tomorrow a vision of hope.
Look well, therefore to this day.

Scott -
You are a really good person. I hope you continue writing such beautiful music. Good luck in ~~the~~ future. I hope you make your life - well lived and a good one, because you are only here once.

BOB SHEA

FRANKLIN L. BURNHAM
CONTRACTOR

Dublin, N. H.

For
everything there is a season, and a time for every matter
under heaven:

a time to be born, and a time to die;

a time to plant, and a time to pluck up what is planted;

a time to kill, and a time to heal;

a time to weep, and a time to laugh;

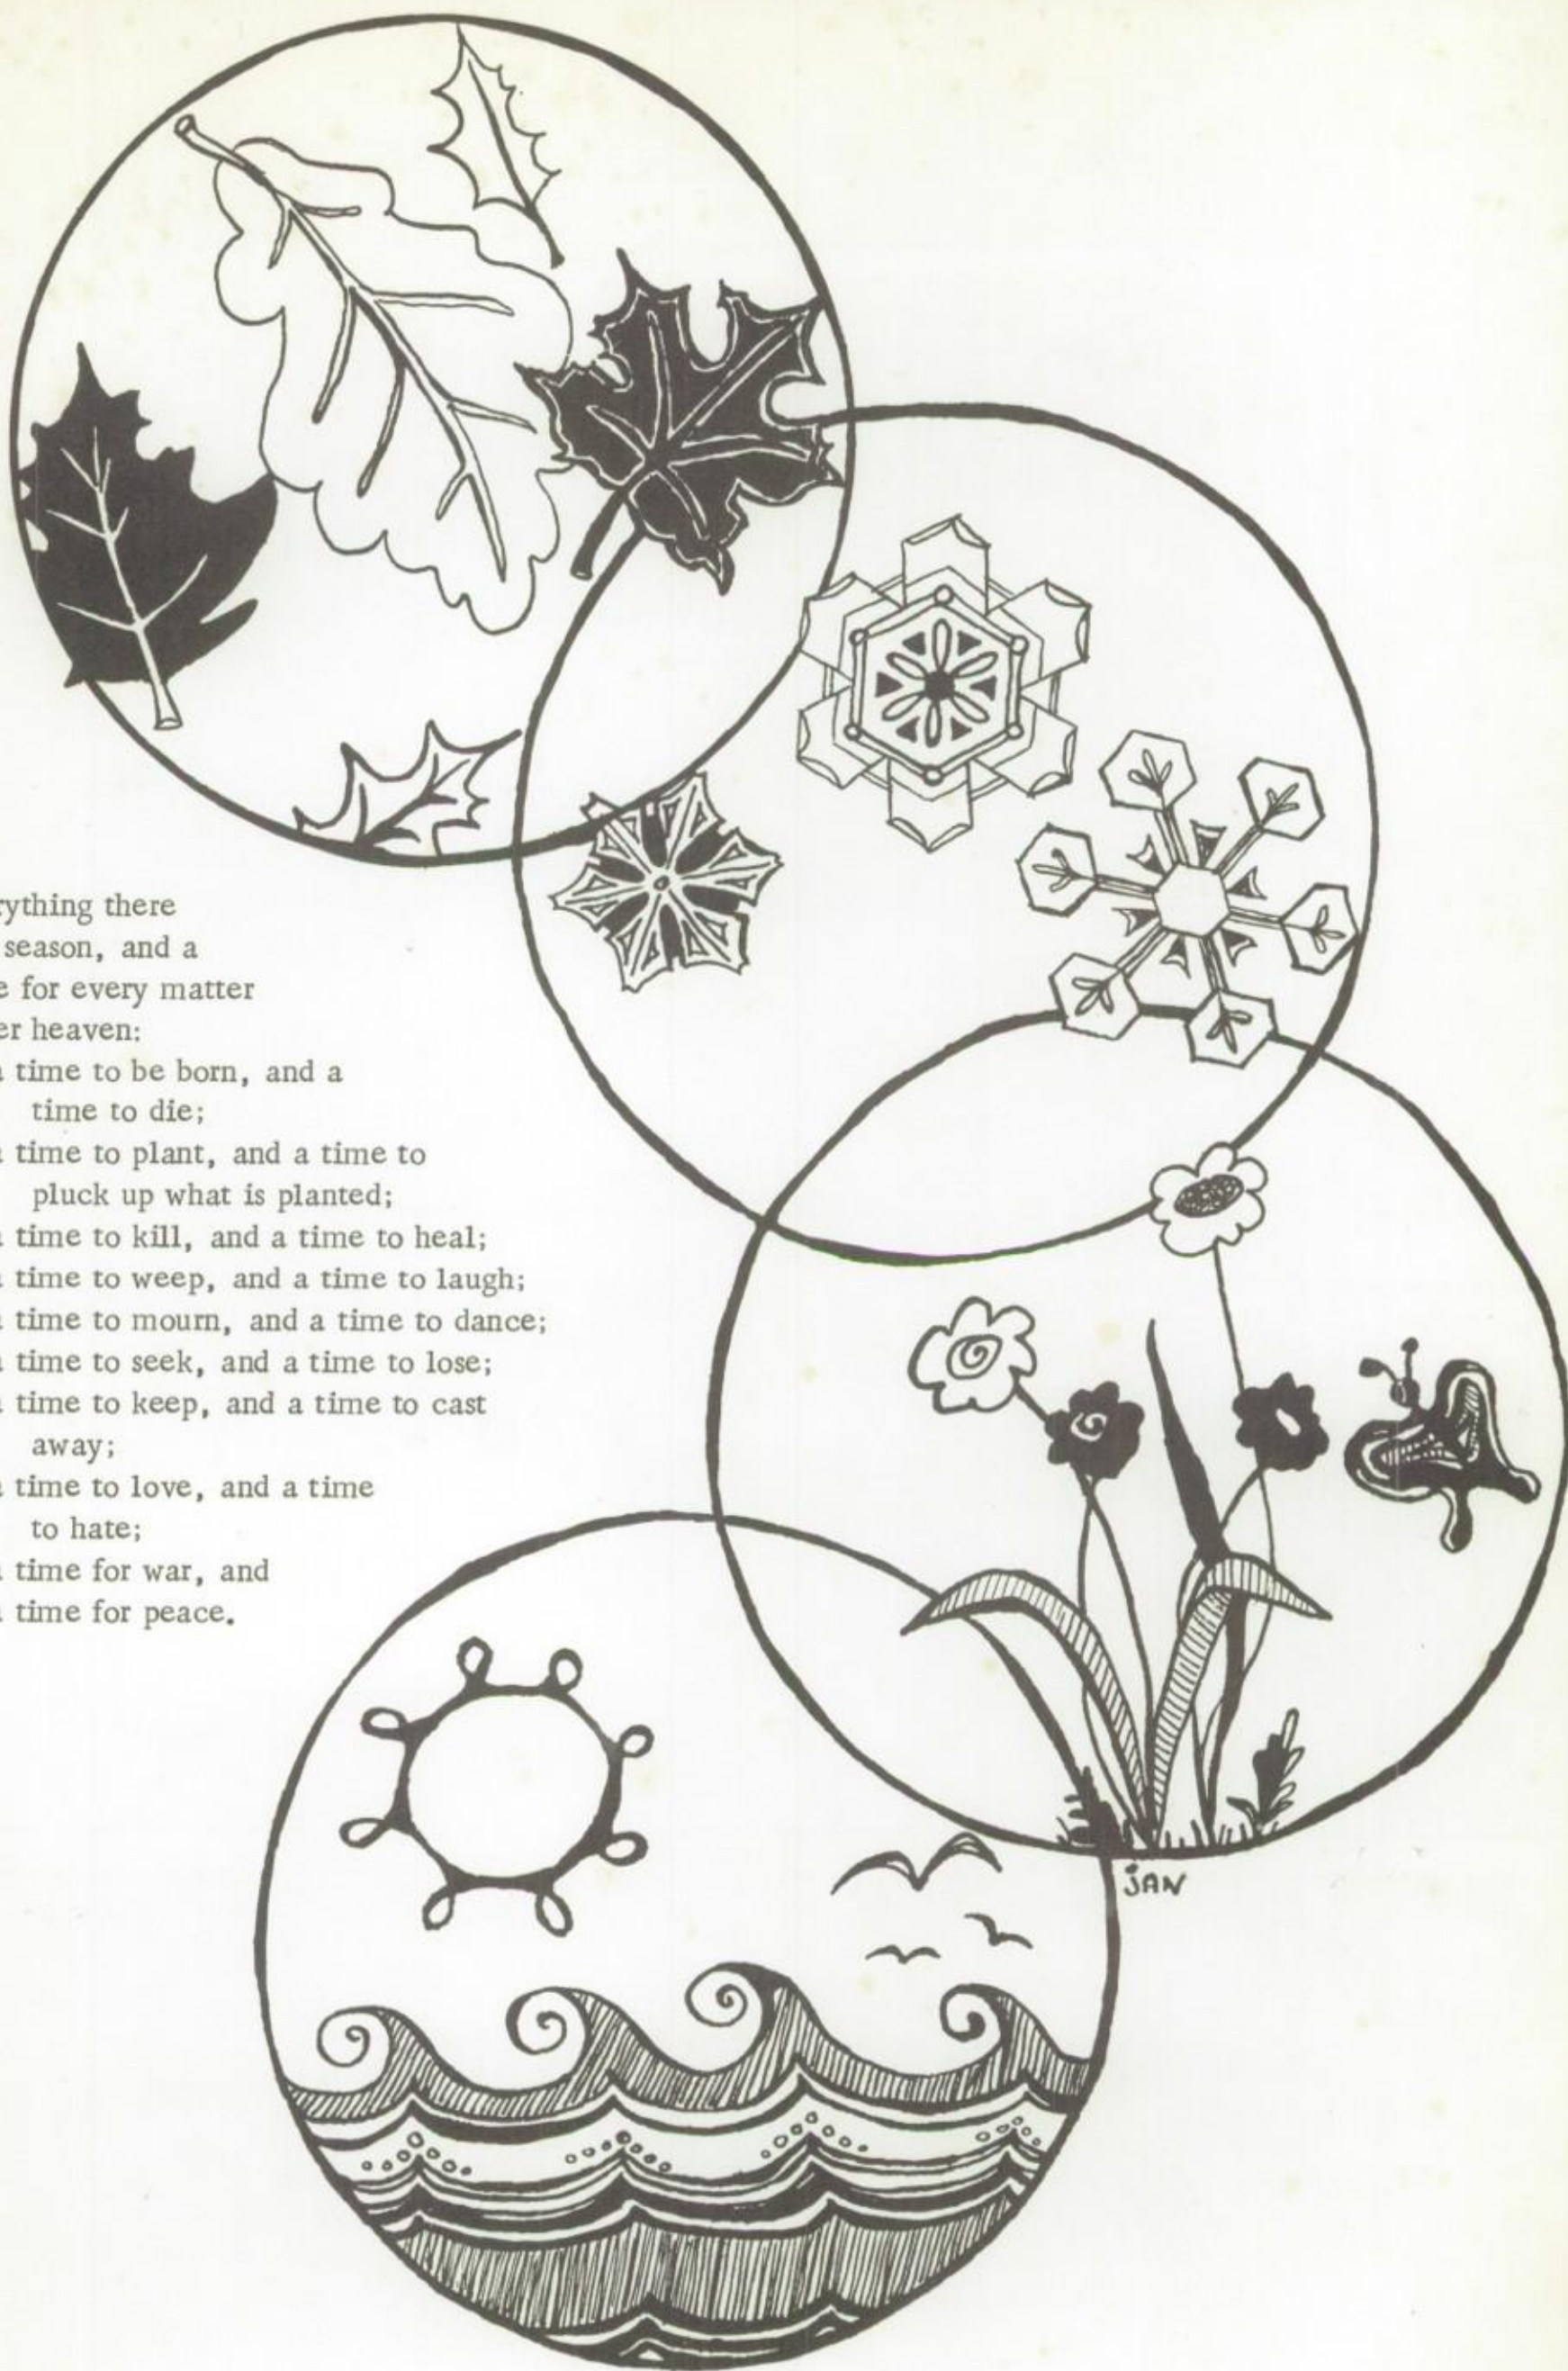

a time to mourn, and a time to dance;

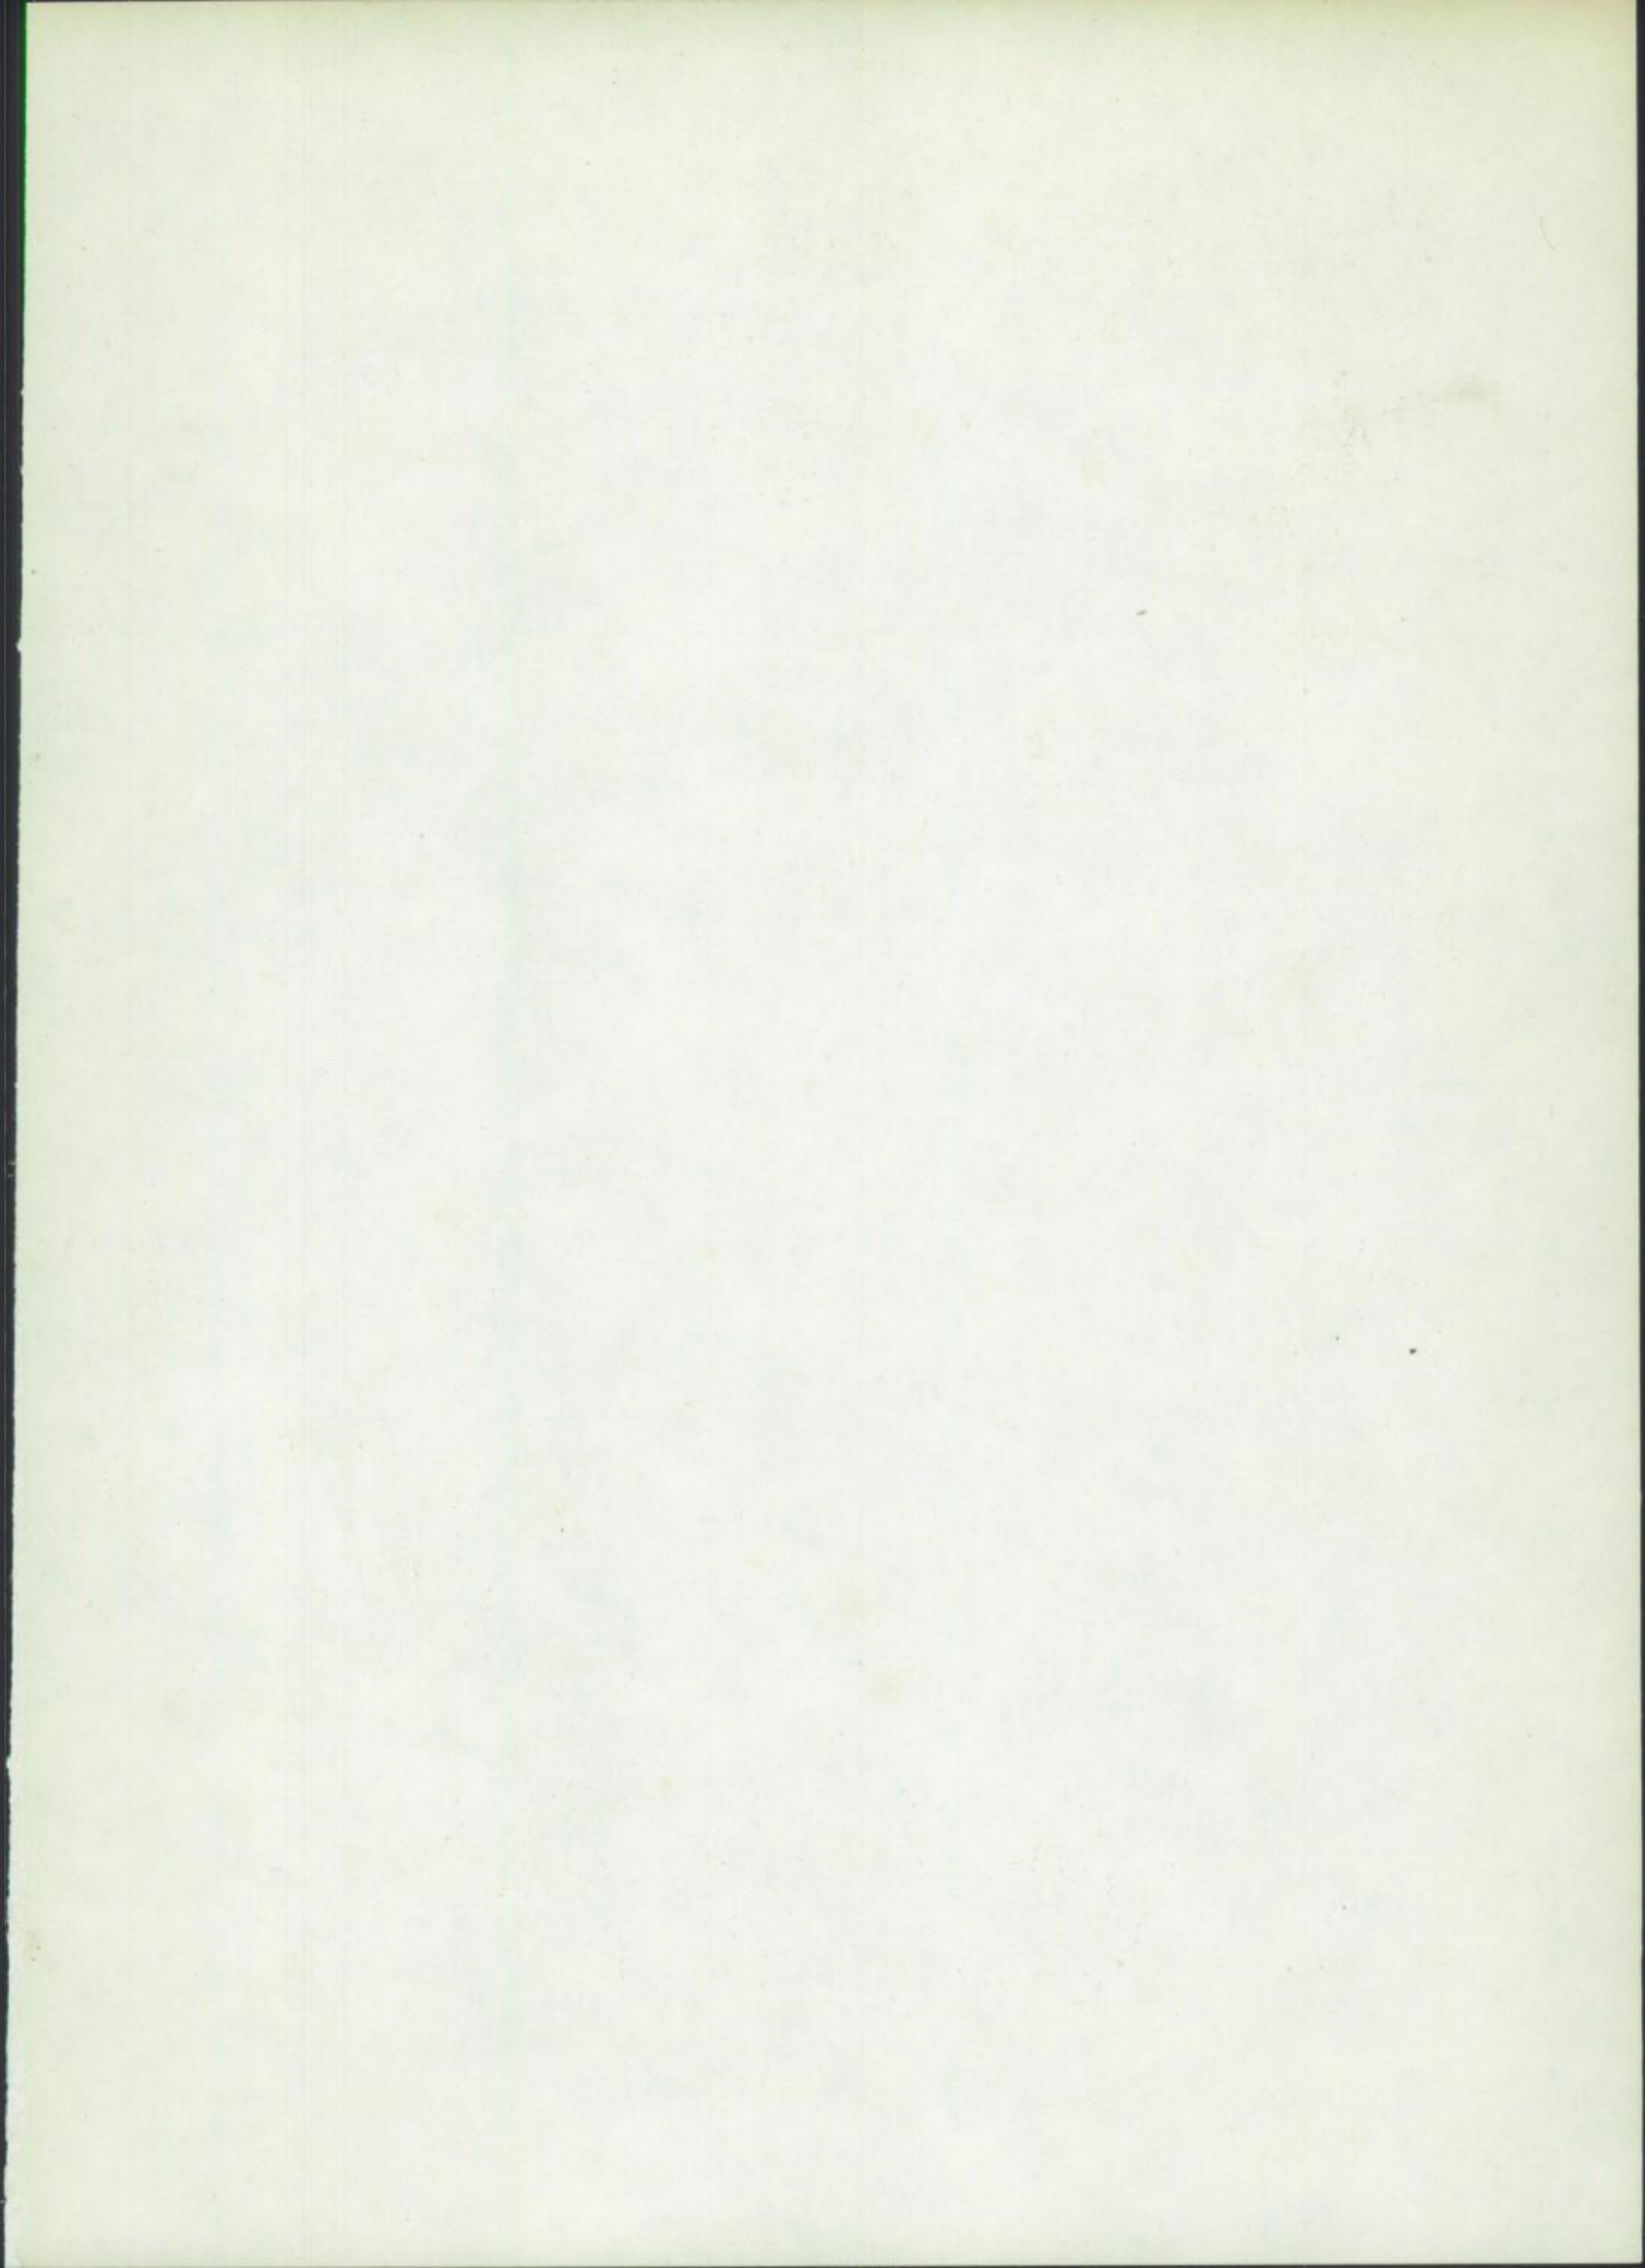

a time to seek, and a time to lose;

a time to keep, and a time to cast away;

a time to love, and a time
to hate;

a time for war, and
a time for peace.

Good Luck
Best

Clarke
